

OpenITI, ver. 2020.2.3

—Release Notes—

Corpus Metadata

The current release metadata is available in the “OpenITI_metadata_2020-2-3.csv” file. In addition, we provide the metadata file with rows for merged rows of multi-part text, the book Bihār al-anwār (1111Majlisi.BiharAnwar). The file is called “OpenITI_metadata_2020-2-3_merged.csv” and instead of having multiple rows for each part of the text as in the original metadata file, here we have one row for each book with all the necessary information. The only missing information is “local_path”, filled with “NA” as there is no valid path for the text file of such books as a whole. The merge action is done on both versions of this book, Shia001432Vols and Zaydiyya0000202. To access multipart texts use the original metadata file (OpenITI_metadata_2020-2-3.csv).

Folder structure:

- data: main data folder with Author > Book > Versions structure
- OpenITI_metadata_2020-2-3.csv: metadata file, with a row for each text in the corpus, including a row for each part of the multi-part books in the corpus
- OpenITI_metadata_2020-2-3_merged.csv: metadata file, with one row for each multi-part book in the corpus
- OpenITI_release-note_2020-2-3.pdf: release notes

Annotated texts

The table below lists the texts that their extension has changed since the previous release (version 2020.1.2). The list shows the uri of the texts together with the current extension that is also the files name of the texts. The filename is a part of the local_path of the text in the metadata file.

The extensions (.InProgress, .completed, and .mARkdown) are either added to a file or might have changed since the previous release. The former case means the file is now completely or partially annotated. The latter means the status of the annotation has changed. For example, if the extension was ".completed" and has changed to ".mARkdown" in this release, it means the file is structurally annotated and vetted. For more information on the OpenITI mARkdown and the extensions please see here.
